

November 05, 2025 at 8:20p.m.: On Loud Vehicle Outside of Our Home Revving Its Engine to Indicate that My Legal Work is Currently Subject to Illegal Spying

I am writing this to publicly record the current intrusion into our peaceful household.

I am currently working on private legal matters for our family and we are experiencing a loud and powerful vehicle outside of our home that is revving its engine to indicate the 'power' of certain specific matters that I am writing into my legal documents at this time.

The 'powerful' engine directly coincides with writing about something 'powerful' and is not the first intrusion that has been attempted into this particular sitting of legal work.

I am recording for public record, and for later use, that Donald Trump's team began spying on my home in 2021, has continued to spy on our home since then, and still to this day insists upon sounding vehicle noises outside of our home to constantly 'prove' that we are being illegally monitored by his team of intrusive spies.
